

MORE OBSTACLES IN WAY OF BIG LOAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 21.—Three important developments within the past twenty-four hours may have an important effect in changing the status of the billion dollar war loan which the allies are seeking in this country. They are:

1.—Banks placing the loan may hold out for a commission in excess of the one-half of one per cent, which has been proposed.

2.—Kuhn Loeb and Company, the greatest banking firm in the United States, with German connections, is reported to have refused to participate in the loan.

3.—The allied governments will probably insist upon their right to use money secured in the United States for munitions of war instead of such necessities as food and clothing alone.

Pro-German opposition to the placing of the loan has not lessened any despite the evident progress which the Anglo-French commission has made in its negotiations.

This opposition is believed to have been largely responsible for a demand on the part of the banks placing the loan for a commission in excess of one-half of one per cent. The commission may allow one-half of one per cent per annum during five years.

Whether the report that Kuhn Loeb and Company will have no part in the underwriting loan will militate against its ultimate success remains to be seen. The officers of Kuhn Loeb and Company are Jacob H. Schiff, Mortimer L. Schiff, Felix M. Warburg, Otto H. Kahn and Jerome J. Hanauer.

In addition to the bank holdings of the officers of Kuhn Loeb and Company, the banking house is a vast holder of railroad securities.

If the allied governments put into effect their determination to use part of the loan for the purchase of arms, ammunition and other war supplies, J. P. Morgan and Company will profit doubly.

The house of Morgan will not only get its commission for placing the loan, but will make a big profit out of the supplies purchased here with the money, as the banking firm is the fiscal agent for the British government in the United States.

It is now suggested that the first loan of the allied governments be taken in installments, the aggregate to total $750,000,000 instead of $1,000,000,000 and that the money be retained in American banks to be drawn against. Such an action would keep the money market steady and at the same time would ease the exchange rate. The proposition to keep the money here is favorably received.

bankers taking part in the negotiations, but no definite agreement has been reached yet on this point.

Another important suggestion is that the first installment of the loan be secured by five year five per cent notes, to net the borrowers 97 1/2, and that these notes hold a conversion clause by which the holders may convert them to long term government bonds at a lower rate of interest later.

From this position if they are able to retain it, the French troops will be able to threaten the German lines running through Berry au Bac and to the north of Rheims.

Murderer Kills Himself.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 21.—After aiding the police for eight hours, Edward Doran, a motorman, who last night shot and killed his wife when she refused to give him money, early today ended his own life by shooting himself through the head. In his pocket was found a razor and he is not himself on a street corner near the East river. The police believe he planned to cut his throat or even himself had his attempt to shoot himself failed.

Bryan to Confer With Wilson.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 21.—William Jennings Bryan today made an appointment for a conference at noon tomorrow with President Wilson. It was understood that he expected to discuss the question of military preparedness, and possibly the advisability of his suggested trip to Europe in the interest of peace. Bryan refused positively to make any statement regarding the object of the conference.

Crook Goes to Jail.
John Crook was arrested on Union street on Monday afternoon on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He is claimed to have started a fight in a saloon on Union street and cut one of the bystanders with a beer glass. On his conviction Recorder Long sent him to jail for sixty days.

BRITAIN TRIFLING WITH IMPORTERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 21.—The direct charge that the British foreign office is "trifling" with American importers has been made by the representative in London of the American Importers' Association. He has wired to the state department that he has found it impossible to obtain any satisfaction there in his efforts to secure safe passage for goods tied up in Holland and Scandinavian ports and in vessels detained in British harbors. In consequence Ambassador Page has again approached the foreign office to demand that the promises of concessions which have been made on several occasions now be carried out.

Officials are admittedly troubled over the outlook. Many are coming to the view that unless this government is prepared to enforce retaliatory measures there is practically no hope of getting any concessions whatever from Great Britain. Promises have been freely made only to be denied when application was made as to the best method of procedure.

A week ago the British trade representatives, Sir Richard Cranford and Judge Fleming, representing the state department, agreed on the new regulations whereby the goods now in Rotterdam warehouses were to be brought to the United States. At that time it was stated that complete regulations will be available in three days. Later in the week the proceedings were halted on the ground that France was objecting to the passage of the goods to the United States. Since then denials have been made that France has had any part in the negotiations, but still the goods are held up.

The status of the British note again is shrouded in mystery. Secretary of State Lansing before going on his vacation let it be known that the note was complete and with President Wilson. Today acting Secretary of State Polk intimated that additional changes must be made in it and that in consequence it may be further delayed.

Meanwhile representatives of the meat packers and the national association of importers are coming here to confer with the state department and see whether something can be done to protect their rights.

MINE DISASTER IN ENGLAND
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Nuneaton, Eng. Sept. 21.—Four hundred miners were entombed by an explosion early today in the pithead of the Exhmall colliery. The explosion destroyed the cage apparatus and instantly killed ten men. Fire followed the explosion, making rescue work difficult. Help was summoned from surrounding mines and rescue squads organized to work in relays.

Greatest Brick Making Part of This Country is Here.
In the latest issue of the United States geological survey bulletin attention is called to the fact that the strip of land along the Hudson river from New York city to Cohoes, including Bergen and Middlesex counties, N. J., is the greatest brick-making district in this country, and probably in the world. New York city is the leading common brick market in the United States, about a billion bricks being used there annually, the principal source of supply being the Hudson river region. Connecticut brick is sometimes a factor in this market, but only when prices are high, as the cheap transportation by water gives the New York-New Jersey brick a great advantage. In 1914 prices were very low, and few if any other brick entered this market.

In 1914 there were marketed from this region 888,266,000 common brick, valued at $4,350,832, or $4.90 a thousand. This was a decrease of 137,042,000 brick and of $1,285,229 from 1913. The New York portion of the region supplied 679,120,000 brick, valued at $3,283,399, or $4.83 a thousand, a considerable decrease from 1913. Ulster county was the leading county, reporting 186,381,000 brick, valued at $896,306, or $4.81 a thousand. Rockland county, in which Haverstraw is located, ranked second, with 131,075,000 brick, valued at $642,267, or $4.90 a thousand. These two counties reported nearly half of the production and value of the New York portion of the region in 1914. There were 109 firms operating in the New York portion of the region in 1914, of whom 24 were located in Ulster county and 23 in Rockland county.

EXAMINING TURNER RANCH HOUSE FOR BULLET HOLES
SCENE OF FIGHT ON MEXICAN BORDER.

(U. S. soldiers examining Turner ranch house for bullet holes after fight, to be used as evidence.)
This photograph was taken at the Turner Ranch House near Brownsville, Tex., where a few days ago a pitched battle between Mexican bandits and U. S. troops took place, in which one ranger and two soldiers were killed. Employees at the ranch held the house against the raiders until the rangers and troops arrived. The bandits were then driven off, after several of them were shot. Other suspects were rounded up in the neighborhood and are now awaiting trial.

UNHAPPY LOT OF HAPPY FAMILY

Suing John Kelder of Samsonville Because, They Claim, He Sold them a Pair of Bulky Oxen.

Claiming that John Kelder of Samsonville had sold them a team of bulky oxen, Frederick Happy and his two sons, Frank and Emory Happy, of Wittenberg, have brought suit against him to recover damages for an alleged breach of warranty. The action was taken up for trial this morning in county court before Judge Jenkins and a jury and was continued this afternoon. William D. Brinnier represents the Happs and Frank W. Brooks appeared for Kelder. The amount involved is $80. The case was tried once before in justice's court last fall and resulted in a verdict of no cause of action.

Mr. Happy and his two sons have a lumber mill at Woodstock where they do business under the firm name of Frederick Happy & Sons. Last September they needed a team of oxen in the lumber business and according to their story they went to Samsonville where they heard a man had a team for sale which they thought would suit their needs. Just before they got to Samsonville they saw Mr. Kelder plowing in the field with a yoke of oxen and stopped and talked with him. Mr. Kelder when asked said that the oxen he was using were for sale but the Happs thought the team too light and Kelder said he had a heavier pair up to his house.

After some talk Kelder got in the Happy automobile and they proceeded to the Kelder home, where the oxen were shown and Frank Happy tried them out by driving them about and found that they were well broken. Kelder asked $200 for the pair and the Happs paid a deposit of $20 and a few days later returned and paid the $180 balance and took the oxen home.

There was no question raised as to the fact that the Happs bought the oxen and that they paid Mr. Kelder his price, but there is a question raised as to whether Kelder guaranteed the oxen to work in the woods and draw out lumber. The Happs claim he did and Kelder claims he did not. The question is that the jury will have to decide.

From the story as told by the Happs on the witness stand this morning they had the oxen about a week and had done some plowing with them and also drew several loads of manure and the team worked well. They then took them out to the woods to draw out lumber.

Frank Happy was the first witness to tell of the incident in the woods. He said that they hitched the oxen to a log boat and placed on it a large log. The oxen went all right until they reached a slight knoll when they "balked" and would not even wiggle their tails. Finally they had to hook a team of horses ahead and pull oxen, log and all up to the mill.

When the oxen balked Frank Happy said that "we were fairly provoked and we whipped those oxen until we were tired but it did no good."

The oxen were tried out again with a smaller log and according to the Happs they balked again and refused to pull. Finally the Happs went to see Kelder about taking back the team and returning the $200.

That the oxen were "genuine balkers" was the testimony of Henry Smith, one of the Happy hired men who lives, he said, "wherever I hang up my hat." Henry does not work for the Happs now but is employed in Delaware county. He claimed that the log when the oxen had refused to pull was not heavy for it had run over his foot and had broken no bones.

Mr. Happy, the father, also testified as to the conversation with Kelder at the time the deal for the oxen was made, and his son, Emory, told of how he had tried the oxen out and they had balked. Alfred Whispell, another of the Happy hired men, told of the oxen balking while he was driving them.

The Happs then rested their case and Mr. Brooks moved to dismiss. The court denied the motion and the first witness called by Mr. Kelder was Philetus Hendricks of Kripplush.

From Mr. Hendricks's story it was brought out that he had owned the oxen before either Kelder or the Happs, and in fact he was the one who had sold the oxen to Kelder. Hendricks said he had never had any trouble with the oxen while he owned them and that he had often seen them drawing logs when they were owned by William Lounsbury of Stone Ridge, from whom he bought them.

In reply to questions by Mr. Brinnier it was brought out that Hendricks had been given a note by Mr. Kelder in payment of the oxen and that he still held Kelder's note. "That's all," shouted Mr. Brinnier as he elicited that information and motioned to Mr. Hendricks to step down from the witness chair.

Memo Dunn, who had worked for Mr. Lounsbury at the time Lounsbury had owned the oxen, said he had driven them on the farm at Stone Ridge and had ploughed with them and drawn lumber. He had never heard of a bulky ox, he said. The oxen that Kelder sold Happy had refused to draw a few times when Dunn was driving them.

To Dunn, because he had put too large a load on the log boat.

The last witness called at this morning's session was the defendant, Mr. Kelder, who told his side of the transaction which varied considerably from that told by the Happs.

It should also be added that the Happs after Kelder had refused to take back the oxen sold them to Jacob Forst of this city for use as beef and Mr. Forst had paid them $120. They are now suing to recover $80, or the difference in the price they paid Kelder and what they received from Mr. Forst.

Plans for the installation of a heating plant in the filter house at the board voted to have the plant installed before cold weather. The filter house is at present heated by several stoves and in cold weather one man is kept busy caring for them and there is more or less dust and dirt from the stoves. Plans will be submitted to contractors and the bids will be opened at the first meeting of the board in October. The contract will call for the completing of the plant by December first. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $3,000 and the decreased cost of maintenance will pay for the plant in three or four years.

The board then adjourned. All the members were present.

Queen's Narrow Escape.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
The Hague, Sept. 21.—Queen Wilhelmina had a narrow escape from serious injury perhaps death today when her motor car collided with another. The queen, accompanied by the princess, was driving from parliament building when the automobile collided with another car containing the members of the royal family. Aside from being shaken up the queen was not injured. Two persons in the other car were hurt, however.

WATER MAIN TO BE LAID IN USUAL WAY

Commissioners Cite Previous Cases and Vote Unanimously to Follow Usual Method on Washington Avenue—Filter House to be Heated.

At the regular meeting of the water board on Monday afternoon the matter of laying the new 8 inch water main on Washington avenue under the sidewalk instead of under the roadway was taken up and the commissioners unanimously agreed that the work be done in the usual manner and the main be placed in the street. A petition was received from the property owners along Washington avenue requesting the commissioners to place the main under the sidewalk in order that the brick pavement might not be destroyed. It is claimed that the pavement could not be replaced in a satisfactory manner.

The subject thoroughly the brick pavement on Fair street from North Front street to the Stuyvesant Hotel was cited as a case where the pavement had been relaid with very satisfactory results. This block was torn up and a water main laid to the hotel. The commissioners then voted to follow the usual plan and lay the main in the street.

The matter of laying a water main on Jansen avenue from Foxhall avenue was discussed and as all the houses but one are supplied from the main on Broadway the superintendent was authorized to lay an inch and a quarter pipe from Foxhall avenue to this house, a distance of about 200 feet.

Superintendent Harrison reported that the construction work which had been going on at the reservoirs was completed. A new barn has been built and two well houses erected.

Plans for the installation of a heating plant in the filter house at the board voted to have the plant installed before cold weather. The filter house is at present heated by several stoves and in cold weather one man is kept busy caring for them and there is more or less dust and dirt from the stoves. GERMANS NEAR GATE OF PETROGRAD
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, Sept. 21.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's German army is now within 17 miles of the great Russian city of Dvinsk (Dunaburg), which is one of the chief gates guarding Petrograd on the southwestern side.

Prince Leopold's army has reached and cut the railway line running from Vilna through Lida to Rowno. These were the chief features in dispatches from the eastern front today and they showed further important progress on the part of the German armies from Riga to the Pripiet marshes.

Dvinsk, which lies on the Dvina (Duna) river, is one of the important thresholds through which German armies can pour into the interior of Russia. It is heavily fortified and a big Russian army has been massed there by Czar Nicholas.

It is situated where the Duna river makes a sharp curve toward the west. To the southwest lies the "lake region" on the western fringe of which is Novo Alexandrovsk, from which point the Russians have retreated beneath the tremendous blows of Von Hindenburg's legions. Novo Alexandrovsk is less than 20 miles from Dvinsk.

Slowly but surely the army groups of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and Prince Leopold are forging a hand of steel around the Russian armies east and southeast of Vilna, while farther south the Russians that retreated from the Pinsk region are pursued by the forces of Field Marshal Von Mackensen.

A great artillery duel is in progress south of the Pripiet marshes and in the region of Dubno and east of Lutsk, the district known as the Volynian triangle. Russian attacks are being repulsed.

On the extreme northern end of the line in the sector south of Riga the Russians have made a strong effort to turn the German flank, but failed. Fighting is in progress around Ekau, 22 miles south of Riga.

Seeking Archibald's Cane.

London, Sept. 21.—"The Archibald dossier" comprising the documents taken by the British authorities from James F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent who says he was the "innocent messenger" of Ambassador Dumba, will be given out this evening. Interest in the Archibald case was revived today by dispatches from Washington stating that trace is being sought for a hollow cane which the American had in his possession when he sailed from New York.

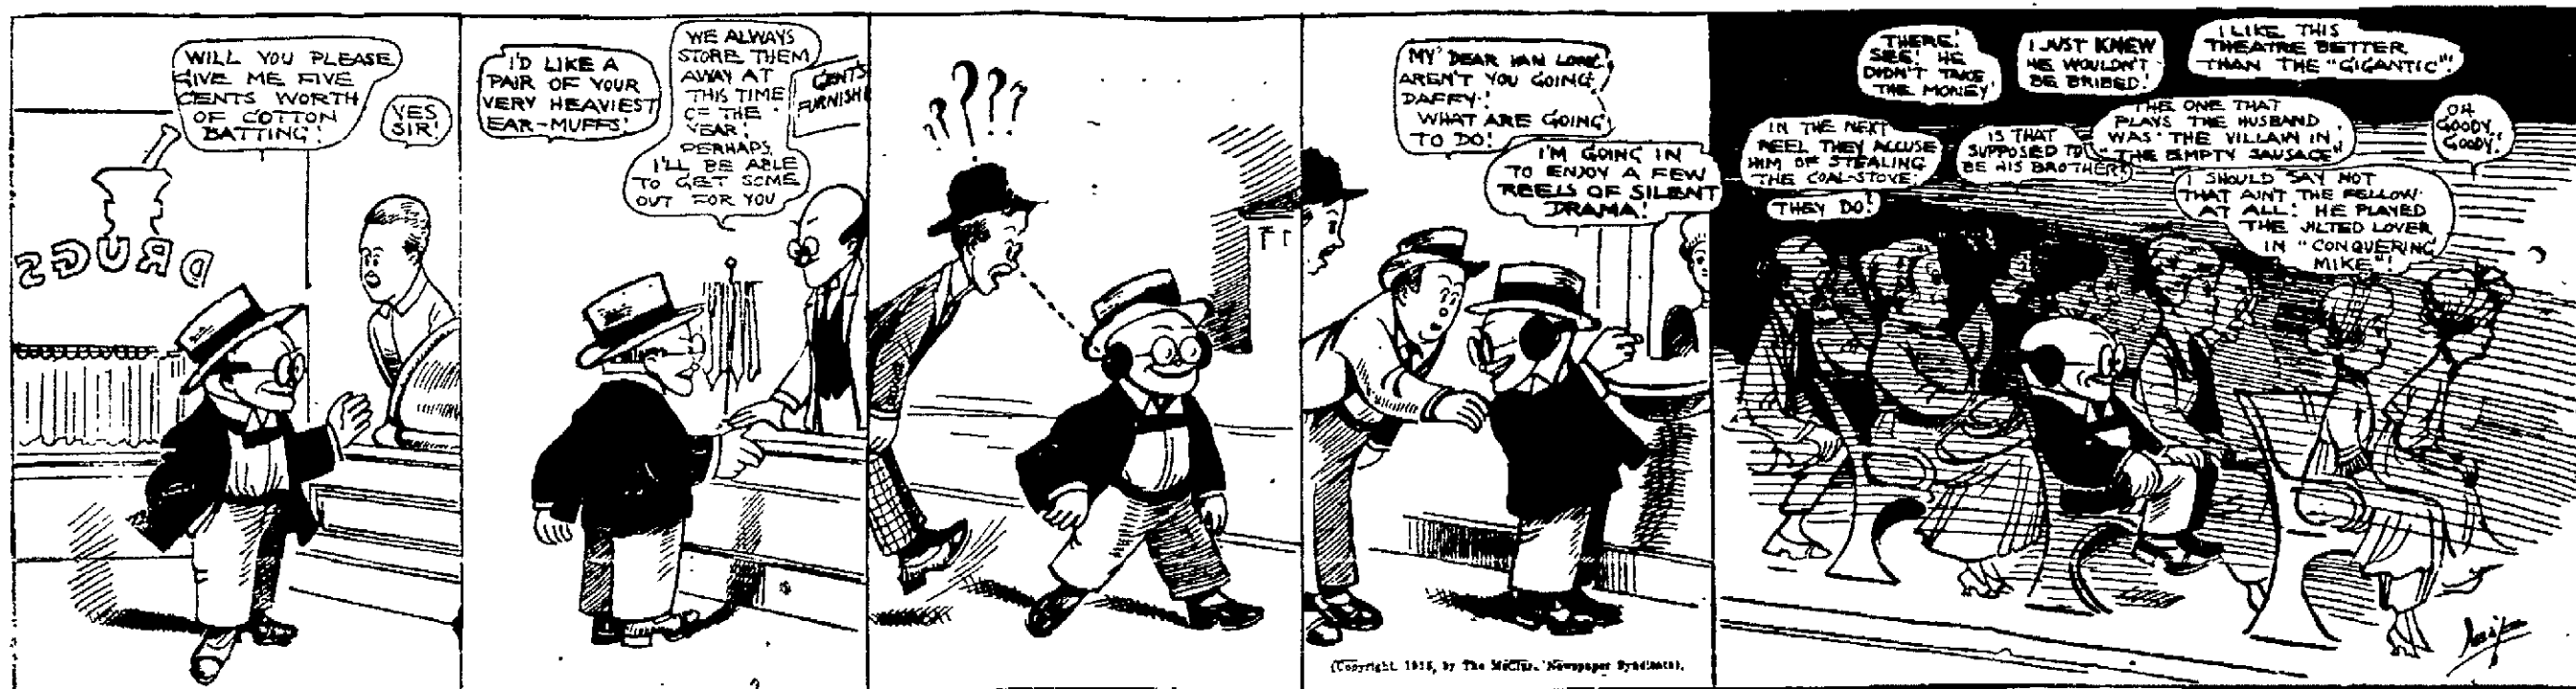

Railroad Wants Men.
A notice posted at the West Shore freight office this morning by Freight Agent G. N. Wood indicates that the railroad company is encountering difficulty in finding able-bodied men to work at Weehawken in spite of the number of unemployed in New York city and its vicinity. According to the notice, the railroad wants able-bodied men as freight handlers in the Weehawken terminal, at wages of 20 cents per hour and 30 cents per hour for Sunday work. The railroad is also willing to furnish free transportation to those engaged by Mr. Wood.

HISTORIANS TO MEET AT WEST POINT

By invitation of the Putnam County Historical Society and through the courtesy of the superintendent of the United States Military Academy, the New York State Historical Association will hold its seventeenth annual meeting at West Point on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 5, 6 and 7.

Ex-President William Howard Taft will deliver the annual address and it is expected that Governor Whitman will be present at the session when that address is given and will introduce Mr. Taft. The program includes addresses on subjects having to do with West Point and the Hudson river, and the subject will be covered as thoroughly as was the history of Ulster county when the association held its annual meeting in this city several years ago.

The steamer Berkshire will be the headquarters of the association, the members occupying staterooms and taking their meals aboard the boat. Those who prefer going to a hotel can get rooms at the West Point Hotel or at The Palatine at Newburgh. A reduction in the rate arranged for those who make the trip from Albany will be made to members who join the party either at Kingston, where the boat will make a landing, or at West Point.

The sessions will be held in Memorial Hall at West Point, with the exception of the Wednesday morning meeting, which will be held in the old historic chapel at the cemetery, and an organ recital in the new chapel on the hill above the parade ground at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening. The organ recital will last about thirty minutes.

There will be drills, receptions and excursions to points of interest at or near West Point. No section of the state furnishes greater opportunity for visiting places of historic interest and probably with the exception of Kingston no people are more active in historical matters or are better entertainers than those in the vicinity of West Point.

Interesting Program Arranged.

The Berkshire will leave Albany at 9:30 o'clock in the morning of Tuesday, October 5, and will stop at Kingston Point for the accommodation of members from this city and vicinity.

The first session will be held at West Point at 4:30 o'clock the same afternoon.

The entire program for the meeting will be as follows:

First Session—Tuesday, October 5, 4:30 p. m.

A Word of Welcome, Colonel C. Townsley, U. S. A.
Response, Hon. D. S. Alexander.
The Position of the Hudson River Indians in Colonial Times, Arthur C. Parker, State Archeologist.

Second Session—Tuesday, October 5, 8 p. m.

Organ Recital in the New Chapel. Preceding the exercises in Memorial Hall at 8:30.

8:30 p. m.

West Point in Literature, Dr. John H. Finley, president of the University of the State of New York and Commissioner of Education.
The West Point Foundry, Gouverneur Kemble.

Wayne at Stony Point, a poem, Clinton Scollard.
Stereoscopic Pictures Illustrating the History of the Hudson Valley, Alfred W. Abrams, Chief of the Division of Visual Instruction.

Third Session—Wednesday, October 6, 10 a. m., at the Old Chapel.

A Review of the History of West Point, Colonel Samuel E. Tillman, U. S. A.
Geologic Strategy at West Point, Dr. John M. Clarke, Director of Science and the State Museum.

The Ethics of Major Andre's Mission, Colonel Cornelius DeWitt Wilcox, U. S. A.
Introduction of visiting delegates from other historic and patriotic associations.

The afternoon will be given up to excursions and various forms of entertainment. The steamer Berkshire will leave for Haverstraw at 1:30. During the trip Walter C. Anthony, president of the Historical Society of Newburgh Bay and the Highlands, will give a brief address on Stony Point.

Fourth Session—Wednesday, October 6, 8 p. m.

Annual Address, Hon. William Howard Taft.

There will be a reception at the close of the address.
Governor Charles S. Whitman will be present at this session and will introduce Mr. Taft.

Fifth Session—Thursday, October 7, 10 a. m.

The Later French Settlements in New York, Dr. James I. Myer, director of the State Library.
The Importance of the Scientific Study of Military History, General Montgomery M. Macomb, U. S. A. Business meeting.

The afternoon will be given up to various forms of entertainment, including reception on Constitution Island—a point of historic interest during the war of the revolution and the home of the early American novelists, the Misses Warner.

Sixth Session—Thursday, October 7, 8 p. m.

New York's Place in History, the president's address, Sherman Williams, Ph.D.
President Lincoln as Commander-in-Chief, General Francis V. Greene, U. S. A.

Local Committees.

The local committees are as follows:

General Committee.

Miss Mary H. Haldane, Chairman.
Gouverneur Kemble, president of the Putnam County Historical Society.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1300—A Dainty "Lingerie" Combination—Ladies' Corset Cover, Cap and Negligee.

For this dainty dressing sack one could choose embroidered crepe, lawn, dimity, batiste, cashmere or silk. The design is easy to develop and charmingly simple. It will be found delightfully cool and very becoming. The corset cover is a one piece model, with gathered fullness at the neck edge that may be drawn up by a casing covered with a band of dainty embroidery, or with embroidered eyelets, or heading. The cap in popular Tipperary style may be of net, lace, lawn, chiffon or mull or of the same material as that selected for the sack. The pattern comprises all styles illustrated and is cut in 3 sizes. Small, medium and large. It requires 1 1/2 yards or 27 inch material for the corset cover, 1/2 yard for the cap, and 2 1/2 yards for the sack, for a medium size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up to date 1915-1916 large Fall and Winter Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest embroidery designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Make No Mistake

Hundreds of young people are continually going to the altar "for better or for worse," and often it is for the "worse." Just so hundreds of young men and women are choosing in a calling "for better or for worse" with the same results. KINGSTON, N. Y., SEPT. 21, 1915.

Today was the first since the opening of the new high school that weather conditions compelled any noticeable number of pupils to make use of the trolley cars to reach school. It would indeed be a remarkable year that did not have many other rainy days, and some snowy days, too, and inevitably the question of special school-tickets will be raised in Kingston. Is anyone yet prepared to discuss the matter from the standpoint of fairness both to the public and the trolley company?

William Jennings Bryan will oppose any program of military preparedness that contemplates appropriations in excess of those made at the last session of Congress. He does not believe any new ships should be built but prefers that the ships we have should be dismantled, although he will not fight for that this year. Perhaps one reason why Bryan is opposed to increasing our military and naval efficiency is the existence of the rule in those departments requiring that promotion depends on experience, merit and fitness, while his own policy was outlined in his notorious Santo Domingo letter appealing "for jobs for deserving Democrats." Bryan may go to Europe on a peace mission, but if he does he will not sail until October. He is booked for speeches for the next three weeks. Speeches bring him in money. He may believe sincerely in peace, and for other people in peace at any price, but when peace interferes with the price he receives for his speeches it is just as well that peace shall be postponed.

Civic improvements are accomplished slowly, but the impetus they gain is seldom sidetracked or stalled for very long. The purchase by the Board of Supervisors on Monday of the remaining property on the Rondout side of the creek needed for the construction of the Sleighshturb bridge abutments marks another advance toward the realization of the comprehensive highway plan adopted by the state of New York along the west bank of the Hudson river, from the New Jersey line to Albany.

The increasing automobile traffic which makes Kingston a stopping place is only one feature of the beneficial results to follow the construction of the bridge. This feature will be of benefit not only to the city of Kingston but to the entire county of Ulster. The system of connecting highways in Ulster is not yet complete, but it is sufficiently advanced for every section of the county to realize its benefits, some of which have been reaped already. The completion of the missing link which will be supplied by the Sleighshturb bridge as part of the state system is of greater state importance than the construction of any other public work which could be carried on in this vicinity and because of the increased general traffic it is of greater importance locally than any other improvement either under way or in contemplation. Not only do our own people but the people of the entire state look to Ulster to see that nothing hinders further the early completion of the bridge.

Incoming passengers on Atlantic liners tell thrilling stories of the damage wrought by the German Zeppelins. Last week, nearly three weeks ago, details of which have been withheld by the British press censor. While following partly the line of the Great Eastern railroad, which was sufficiently damaged to prevent traffic for two days, the Zeppelins evidently endeavored to destroy historic buildings, hotels and the dry goods district, while photographs brought from London show that even the humble homes of the poorer classes were not allowed to go un-bombed. Civilization condemns the ancient practices of the American Indians who in the prime and pride of their savage ferocity crept into the frontier settlements of the white man to torture and slay women and children in order to make favorable terms with the men who had been sent to fight them. It is difficult to compare the Zeppelin tactics or the murderous submarine attacks which have been carried on practically until the present time with the Indian methods of warfare, for the reason that the Indians were outclassed in arms by the soldiers and as individuals they never had been anything except untutored and unlettered barbarians born with an unquenchable love of cruelty and undying love of blood. Fortunately for present day civilization, China supplies most of the artificial hair used in commerce or the vaunted combination of German military and commercial efficiency might have an excuse to seek a return to the fashion of the red man to carry human scalp locks at their belts. In view of what has transpired, a return to this once popular custom would not be surprising.

OUR TEACHERS.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

With the boys and girls trooping back to school three early fall mornings the dominant hope naturally is that each may find in his teacher a true inspiration and guide, for if the child really learns to look up to her he keeps her at a tremendous height—she knows just a little more than anyone else does and her judgment is overtopping.

It is something of a strain to live up to the expectations of those small idealists, but the achievement is worth a costly effort. A teacher who approaches her possibilities in the way of influence and general training and keeps fairly close to the long line of requirements mapped out for her by ruling and her own desire, in the end accomplishes something that cannot be paid for in currency; and for the service the co-operation of parents seems a small recompense.

It is no light experience for a young teacher to be confronted with a small sea of upturned faces and to realize that they and their parents are looking to her alone; that she must teach, train, control and influence them and at all times look for criticism aplenty if she goes astray in matters of judgment or otherwise. One cannot wonder if she has a wholesome fear of the many dispositions wrapped up in the small personalities for whom she is responsible.

And if parents know that she is earnestly interested in their best advancement it is not difficult to turn a tide of adverse criticism into a spirit of confidence mutually helpful and satisfying. It is unfortunate when a pupil does not "like" the teacher who is to be his guide and mentor for the school term. When the fault is hers, due to weakness as a teacher, disinterestedness or poverty in the traits that make the profession an art, it would seem that she had missed her calling and the mistake is fruitful in consequences.

But it is twice a pity when the fault is with the child. The enemies of children are strange and quite unfathomable sometimes. Perhaps dislike may start with some foolish misunderstanding or bit of prejudice that could easily be wiped away, and it is a pity when a mother to find out why the boy or girl finds the teacher distasteful.

We ask so much of our teachers, in influencing boys and girls, with all of childhood's susceptibility to impressions, that they ought to be able to look to parents for sympathy and co-operation in the work of making school hours yield the richest returns.

A teacher during her hours of work has little opportunity to be humanly weak, if she succeeds. In almost any other pursuit, we can relax a bit, but with the many pairs of vigilant eyes on duty in the school room she must remain alert, fresh and resourceful in the days when she feels keen and active and those other days when it is an effort to guide and remain bright and cheery.

The pastimes of the average child are rather turbulent and after the long vacation it is hard to apply himself to work and to arouse an enthusiasm for the schoolroom, the teacher and the duties she stands for. If conscientious, she does her best to check the spirit of unrest, but she needs help from the parent, who knows that good work can never be done unless interest is aroused. The fountain of enthusiasm abides in the teacher, but the mother can direct the boy and girl to the real source by withholding her in her work and keeping alive the spirit of sympathy.

The very importance of having teachers whose accomplishments are enduring is reason sufficient to try to strengthen the bond between teacher and child.

As we turn the pages of memory, how strongly some of our teachers stand out, and how willingly we forget others! And since we want the best, with all they can give of their brighter personality, why not pay for the best in co-operation and support?

The Home and School Association, in the interest of the city child, and the School Improvement League for the country environment, aim to get the home and the school in closer relations and the result of their efforts cannot fail to be productive of happy results for teacher and child alike.

A teacher whose ideals remain high and who tries to lead her pupils along the ways that make for good equipment, educationally, morally and even physically, deserves all the encouragement the home can offer, for the best of her energies and ambitions center in the work.

BUSY AFTERNOON IN COUNTY COURT

Two Sentences Suspended, Peace Warrant Cases Continued Under Bail. Cases Reported Settled and a Day Calendar Made Up.

Daniel Griffin of Meadow street, indicted by the grand jury on the charge of raping his daughter, and Moses Daly, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of entering the mill at Highland and stealing some sweaters, were both arraigned in county court at the opening of the September term on Monday afternoon and after listening to pleas for clemency made on their behalf by their attorneys, Judge James Jenkins suspended sentence in both cases and the men were released from the county jail where they have been held awaiting trial. Considerable other business was also taken up and after making up a day calendar of cases to be tried this week court adjourned to this morning.

The Griffin Case.

Judge N. Frank O'Reilly appeared in behalf of Griffin. He said that in June he had been appointed by the court to defend Griffin, that he had made a careful investigation of the case and had reached the conclusion that the whole trouble was due to the excessive use of intoxicants. Drink had left Griffin in such shape that when the judge had been appointed to defend him he was led to believe that Griffin was insane which had led to the appointment of a commission to determine the question of Griffin's sanity. The accused man had spent seven months in the county jail and the alcohol was probably out of him by this time, said Judge O'Reilly. The judge said that Griffin's daughter had told him that she did not care to press the charge. Griffin's wife had led him and his domestic difficulties has caused Griffin to lose his position as engineer with the New York Central Railroad that he had held for over twenty years. This had caused him to seek consolation in intoxicants. Judge O'Reilly said that there was grave doubt as to whether Griffin really committed the crime charged but that he might have assaulted his daughter by slapping her face or tearing her clothes and that he was willing to enter a plea of guilty of assault in the third degree in behalf of Griffin. Judge O'Reilly said that Griffin had been brought before him once while acting recorder and that at that time Griffin had taken the pledge for three months and had kept it. If sentence was suspended Griffin would secure a job and would contribute toward the support of his family.

Assistant District Attorney Traver said that the district attorney's office was willing to accept the plea of guilty suggested by Judge O'Reilly, and that sentence be suspended.

Judge Jenkins said that while he was about to suspend sentence it was not because he had any doubt as to Griffin's guilt for he had also made an investigation and was of the belief that alcoholism was the cause of the crime. The court said that as a trial would bring disgrace upon the members of Griffin's family he would suspend sentence if Griffin followed explicitly the three conditions that he would impose. They were that Griffin would not use any intoxicant for a period of one year; that he would not sleep in the same house with his mother and daughter, and that commencing in two weeks Griffin contribute toward the support of his family the sum of $5 a week. If any of these conditions were not kept Griffin would be brought back and sentence imposed.

Daly Arraigned.

Moses Daly was arraigned and through his attorney, A. W. Lent, he withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree. Mr. Lent in his plea for clemency called attention to the fact that two others had been arrested with Daly for the same offense and that both had been let off with suspended sentence. He said that Daly was not as guilty as the other two but had been led by them to assist in the crime.

No objection was raised by the district attorney and Judge Jenkins said he would suspend sentence pending the good behavior of Daly.

Daly is a resident of Highland and is 30 years old. He is not married and his parents are living.

William Judge of the town of Lloyd who is held under a peace warrant was arraigned and District Attorney Cunningham moved that the bond William had furnished to keep the peace be continued until the next term of court. Judge Jenkins granted the request. The complaint against Judge was made by Jordan Acker.

Geremia Mascitelli of the town of Marlborough, who had made threats to kill John W. Lent of the same township, was arraigned and his bond to keep the peace was also continued until the next term of court by Judge Jenkins at the request of the district attorney.

"Threats Were Proper."

Nicola Armano of the town of Lloyd, who is held under a bond to keep the peace, was arraigned. He was represented by S. G. Carpenter of Highland, who asked that the bond be cancelled. Mr. Carpenter said that Nicola had raised some fine peaches this year which he had agreed to sell to Frank Marano, who had the complaint against Nicola, for 20 cents a basket. For the best and 20 cents for those not so good. When Nicola started to deliver the peaches Marano only wanted to pay 20 cents a basket which led to the threat being made by Nicola. Mr. Carpenter said with a smile that he had had some of the peaches and they were good and that under the circumstances Nicola's threats were proper and just.

Judge Jenkins, also with a smile, said that he did not agree with Mr. Carpenter on that proposition, and that he would continue the bond until the next term of court.

Wants Smith Discharged.

Some time ago William Smith was committed to the county jail in default of furnishing bonds in the sum of $500 that he would pay $1.50 a week toward the support of a child born to Margaret Ann Slade of Saugerties, which it was alleged he was the father. On the application of William D. Brinnier, Smith was brought from the county jail and arraigned in court.

Mr. Brinnier asked that Smith be discharged on the grounds that the commitment papers were defective. He said that the Slade woman had had two other children but the town had not been able to find the fathers.

The motion to discharge Smith was opposed by Benjamin Rowe, who represented the town.

Judge Jenkins reserved decision, and Smith was remanded to jail.

Cases Settled.

At the call of the trial calendar, the following cases were announced as settled:

No. 14—Benjamin F. Shaw, agt. Carrie C. Winne, as executrix, an action to recover for work, labor and services. Frank W. Brooks appeared for plaintiff and V. B. Van Wageningen for defendant.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

In the surrogate's court, Surrogate Gill has admitted to probate the will of Mrs. Miranda C. Preston of this city. To her daughter, Mrs. Edith Preston Boyer, the testatrix bequeaths the sum of $5,000, payable within five years, and the balance of the estate she gives to her son, Carlton S. Preston, provided that so long as he may, shall own, and have possession of "The Huntington," which Mrs. Preston conveyed for many years, Mrs. Boyer shall have the use of rooms there for her comfort and well-being, and to have rights and comforts which she now enjoys there, without charge. Both children are appointed executors. The will was executed January 10, 1912, and witnessed by Senator Charles W. Walton and Mrs. Grace G. Higginson. The value of the estate is over $10,000 real estate and $5,000 personal property.

The will of Nicholas Hallock, of the town of Marlborough, was filed and the matter of its probate was held open. To his son, Lendal V. Hallock of Washington, D. C., the testator devises the old Hallock Homestead, which has been in the possession of the family for the past 150 years. Articles of furniture and other personal belongings are given to his nephew, Gifford H. Hallock, and to his nieces, Sarah H. Hallock, Anna G. Richards, George H. Greenleaf and Josephine Hallock. The son is appointed executor. The will was executed March 23, 1915, and witnessed by H. H. Hallock and Eula G. Hallock, both of Milton. The value of the estate is $3,000 real estate and $300 personal property. John F. Ball appeared for the executor. Mr. Hallock died at Seattle, Wash., on August 5 last.

KING ALBERT INSPECTING AEROPLANE
KING INSPECTS NEW AEROPLANE DEVICE.

The picture shows King Albert of Belgium, inspecting a new bomb dropping device on a French aeroplane near the front. King Albert has been one of the most tireless workers in the army. He is constantly on the alert and knows more about army equipment than do his generals. What is left of the valiant Belgium army is now aiding the French on the eastern battle line.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, Sept. 21—For the subject of his morning sermon by request of a member of the congregation, Rev. Mr. Schwitters took for his subject, "The Value of a Human Soul." His talk was very impressive and instructive. His text was Matt 16-20. "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul" or "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul." The subject of the juniors' talk was "The Two Doors," illustrated by the drawing of the door of the house of Pharaoh, the other of a poor Israelite. Then he told the story of the Passover, how the Israelites were exempt from the death of their first-born because of the blood sprinkled on the posts and lintels of their doors.

Professor Brown, who resided in this place some time during the water works boom, was in town on Thursday. He went up to shaft five to gather geological specimens. He made some calls on friends in this place.

Henry E. Williams of Walden was in the village on Saturday. Anderson Taylor from Port Haven was in High Falls Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mower Barnhardt were out motoring Friday morning. Pine Mountain League will meet with Mrs. John R. Snyder Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hannah Sheeley of Ellenville has been spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Morton Grant.

Miss Helen Krom has returned to Walden, to attend school there again, after spending the summer at her home here.

Abram LeFevre and wife with their friends, drove in Kingston Tuesday.

Miss Ruth Yeaple spent Monday evening with her grandmother, Mrs. Demmick E. Krom.

Cyrus McKee, who had an attack of grip, has so far recovered as to take up his work.

Mrs. Abram Johnson and daughter Ethel of Kingston spent a few days with friends here.

Miss Mary Porter of Ellenville was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Grant Sunday.

Friends from Matteawan are visiting at the home of Abram LeFevre. Mrs. Edward Boucher has been ill, but is around again and attending to her duties at Will Quick's hotel.

Claud Yeaple of Walden visited his family Sunday.

Miss Grace Hoyer is attending school at Kingston again, after spending the summer with her parents.

Bon Hoyer visited Kingston Saturday.

George LeFevre has filled his silo.

Mrs. Frank Hotchkiss and niece, Miss Loretta Ostrander, were out motoring with Mr. and Mrs. Van Vleet on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Jacob Hasbrouck died after an operation performed for cancer at Dr. Johnson's Sanatorium in Kingston on Friday. Undertaker Moses Davis met the body at the 2 o'clock train and took it to her home. Services at the house at 1:30 o'clock and at the cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Interment in High Falls cemetery.

Miss Belle Van Wagenen called at the home of Mrs. Jacob Snyder one evening this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Delamater called on Miss Mary C. Van Wagenen on Sunday afternoon.

On Wednesday evening a party from Newburgh, consisting of a minister and some friends, stopped for the night at the Rock Cliff House. The minister's attention was attracted by the ringing of the church bell for prayer meeting. He found his way to the church and gave an interesting talk, which was very much enjoyed by the members present.

Flooding Powder Magazine.

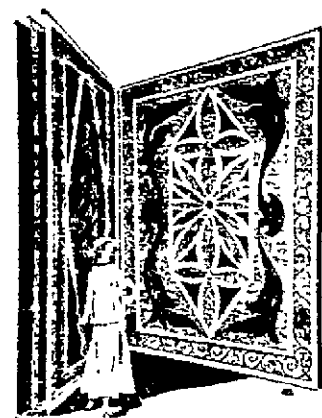

A flooding device to prevent the explosion of the powder magazine is fitted to most big battleships. By simply turning on a number of taps sea water is allowed to rush through pipes into the powder store, which is rendered harmless in case of fire.

KINGSTONIAN BOILERS

Have You Thought of This?

Suppose some day, either you or the man who takes care of your boiler should forget and let the water get so low that when discovered and the cold water thoughtlessly turned quickly on, it cracked the boiler.

To repair it would be a very serious expense with most boilers. But with the Kingstonian made as it is, of a series of sections set one on top of the other, it simply means replacing the one damaged section.

Cost of single sections is small. Expense of putting them in is low. Of course, you don't expect to be careless about a boiler, but isn't it rather good sense to consider such a possibility and buy the boiler that is less likely to need repairs, and that can be easier repaired with least expense?

The Kingstonian is that kind of a boiler.

Let us prove it to you step by step.

Will you drop in or shall we call around?

COUNTY BUYS WETTERHAHN LOT

Property For Bridge Approach Is Now Owned by County—Old Bill For Eddyville Bridge Paid—New County Highways Approved by Supervisors.

The last obstacle in the way of preparing for the construction of the Sleightsburgh bridge was removed by the board of supervisors Monday afternoon, when it met in special session and voted to pay David Wetterhahn and Sophia N. Wetterhahn, his wife, the sum of $4,000 instead of the $4,000 previously offered and by this payment avoid the expensive condemnation proceedings which otherwise would have ensued.

The board also approved revised plans and specifications for the construction of the Napanoch-Montela county highway, which passes through Lackawack, whereby the roadway will have a depth of from 9 to 15 inches, instead of six inches as originally planned by the state highway department. The increased cost of the road will amount to $20,000, of which the county will pay $10,465.

Other matters were a resolution directing County Superintendent of Highways Loughran to investigate into the feasibility of making county highways of the stretches of highway between the city limits and the village of Old Hurley and between the village of Wallkill and the Orange county line in order to expedite its construction, the refusal of the board to deduct $249.73 from the county's crime bill against the city of New York and thus relieve Contractor John F. Gallagher of that amount which represents the cost of criminal proceedings against Sylvester Sylvester, who was employed at the time he was accused of murder—a charge which was dismissed by the grand jury as soon as Sylvester established an alibi, and the payment to Judge Jenkins, Charles T. Contant and George Kraft of $275 for land owned by them which was taken by the county for the construction of the Eddyville bridge.

Wetterhahn Comes to Terms.

The offer of $4,000 for the David Wetterhahn property on Abel street, which is required for the approach to the Sleightsburgh bridge, was made to Wetterhahn and his wife at the special session last May. Wetterhahn had asked $7,000 for his property and at one time had lowered his figures to $5,000. The county's offer of $4,000 was rejected. Condemnation proceedings were in contemplation when Wetterhahn sent in his offer to convey the property to the county for $4,000. The Wetterhahns offered possession of the property after October 15th, and retain the right to remove the buildings. Experience in condemnation proceedings to acquire rights of way for other state highways, in one instance the costs having amounted to $1,700 for property for which awards of $800 were made, led the board to adopt a resolution offered by Supervisor Riftenbary accepting the Wetterhahn offer provided the deed is delivered within the day, which Chairman Hartshorn and Clerk Loughran are authorized to issue a warrant for the amount stated.

Supervisor Riftenbary expressed the opinion that the purchase of the property instead of its condemnation would result in a saving of between $2,500 and $3,000.

Montela Road Will Be a Good One.

The change in the construction of the Napanoch-Montela road was indicated in a communication received from the state highway commissioner, who enclosed revised specifications and plans substituting for the three-inch top and bottom courses of waterbound macadam originally planned, a six-inch and twelve-inch foundation course with a three-inch bituminous top-course. The additional cost will be $29,000, of which the state pays 65 per cent, amounting to $19,435, and the county pays 35 per cent, amounting to $10,465.

A resolution offered by Supervisor Shook accepting the revised plans was adopted.

To Expedite Needed Road Construction.

Supervisor Riftenbary called attention to the condition of the two mile stretch of roadway connecting Kingston city with the village of Old Hurley, which he said was practically impassable. Last year the county was fortunate enough in having this highway put fourth on the list of roads to be constructed by the state as part of the state highway system, but he had been informed by County Superintendent Loughran that it would be two years before the connecting link would be built. He therefore moved that the matter be referred to County Superintendent Loughran to report at the annual session in regard to the advisability of making this road a county highway in order to expedite its construction. The resolution was adopted.

A similar resolution offered by Supervisor McElthone relative to the three-mile stretch of highway between the village of Wallkill and the town line of the town of Newburgh, Orange county, was also adopted.

Jenkins, Contant and Kraft To Be Paid.

County Attorney John W. Eckert was heard in relation to a claim of Judge Jenkins, Charles T. Contant and George Kraft. They were the owners of land near the Eddyville bridge, he said, and claimed that part of their land had been taken for bridge construction purposes. No map of the property had been filed, but a map was produced afterward showing the location of the property. Last year they had presented a claim to the board of supervisors for $500, which had been rejected on the ground that their land had not been taken. Afterwards the committee on security rights of ways, accompanied by Judge Jenkins and himself, and Henry D. Darrow, the engineer from the state engineer's office, had visited Eddyville and Mr. Darrow pointed ed out what had been taken according to the map. The committee had decided that since the matter had been passed on by the board of supervisors, the committee had no power to act but that it must be acted on by the entire board instead of a committee. Two-hundred and seventy-five dollars had been mentioned as the amount to be paid to the owners if the board acted favorably on the matter, and Judge Jenkins had prepared a deed and release.

On motion of Supervisor Woolsey, Judge Jenkins was heard. Judge Jenkins said that the matter appeared to put him in a peculiar light. The price to be paid had been agreed on with the committee and he had supposed that was the end of it and that the owners would receive their money. The facts were that a lot on the Rondout creek at the town of Ulster end of the Eddyville bridge belonged to Mr. Contant, Mr. Kraft and himself. Part of the lot had been taken for the bridge abutment and the value of the lot was destroyed. He had drawn a claim for $500 and presented it to the board, but later he had withdrawn the claim until the matter could be more fully investigated by the board.

The committee to acquire rights of way, accompanied by Mr. Darrow, County Attorney Eckert and himself, had visited the site and with a map Mr. Darrow had pointed out the land which had been taken. The committee had agreed that their land was taken and returned to Kingston where discussion was had as to its value and the committee had agreed that it was $275. The owners had asked $500 for damages, based on prices that had been paid for other lots in that vicinity.

The position that because the board had failed to allow the claim the committee could not now make a settlement he considered untenable. The previous claim had been for damages, but the owners were offering the fee, which had not been tendered before. As he understood the matter, the committee merely presented the matter to the board for its action.

Property Was Bought at Tax Sale.

Supervisor Riftenbary asked whether it had been mutually agreed by the committee and Judge Jenkins that $275 should be paid.

Chairman Hartshorn, chairman of the committee on rights of way, replied that had been the amount agreed on if the matter should be settled. Then the question arose whether the committee had a right to settle in view of the previous action on the claim.

"It may seem impudent of me," said Supervisor Riftenbary, "but as a representative of the taxpayers I think I have a right to ask what this property cost."

"It was not a large sum," said Judge Jenkins. "The property was bought at the state tax sale."

"And eleven dollars and some cents was paid for it?" inquired Supervisor Riftenbary.

Judge Jenkins said he did not recall the exact amount.

"It seems to me to be an awful big price to pay for it," said Supervisor Riftenbary.

"When property is sold at state tax sale," said Judge Jenkins, "it is not sold for its market value but for the amount of the taxes due."

"This property was evidently worthless," said Supervisor Riftenbary. "It consists mostly of a bog along the edge of the creek, as I recall looking at it from the bridge. It did cost a little money, of course, but if the committee offered the owners $275 for it, it certainly was generous of the committee."

"Tax sale prices do not govern the value of property by any means," said Supervisor Woolsey. "I recall once that I bought a property at tax sale and paid seven dollars for it. I held it for a few years and sold it for $250. If the committee examined this property and decided it worth $275, that is some evidence of its value."

Supervisor Woolsey moved that the offer of $275 from the owners be accepted. Supervisor Riftenbary, in seconding the motion, said he had entire confidence in the honesty and integrity of the committee, and as long as the committee had examined the property and was in favor of paying that price, he would vote to sustain the committee. The motion of Supervisor Woolsey was unanimously carried.

Should Gallagher Pay?

The special committee consisting of Supervisors McElthone, Brink and L. L. Schoonmaker, appointed at the annual session to prepare the claim of the county against the city of New York for expenses incurred in the construction work on the Ashokan reservoir submitted a report that the State Highway Construction Company and its subcontractors were indebted to the county in the sum of $272.73 by reason of criminal cases and recommended that the city of New York, the contractor and the subcontractor be relieved of further liability in those cases reported by the committee on payment of that amount to the county treasurer.

A resolution embodying the committee's recommendations was offered by Supervisor McElthone.

Arthur E. Rose, attorney for Contractor John F. Gallagher asked that the report be amended in relation to charges of $249.73 in the case of Sylvester Sylvester. Mr. Rose said that Sylvester had been arrested on facts of the Sylvester case from Assistant District Attorney Traver and had determined that the expense had been "necessarily incurred" and should be collected from the city or from the contractor or subcontractor by whom Sylvester had been employed.

Supervisor McElthone moved to adopt the report.

Supervisor Kolts moved that the amount of $249.73 incurred in the Sylvester case be deducted from the report and that the report otherwise be adopted.

The Kolts motion was lost by a vote of 17 to 7, those voting in its favor being Supervisors Cashin, Kolts, Gagliher, Rice, Schick, Wells and Wedemann.

The report was adopted by a vote of 18 to 6.

Supervisor Kolts asked whether there was any way in which Mr. Gallagher could give a bond to the by the county against the city of New York which had been tried before Referee Lyon, the claims had amounted to between $11,000 and $12,000 when presented but had been allowed at about $6,000 and many cases similar to the Sylvester had been rejected by the referee as a matter of the law. The county had not appealed from the referee's decision, which had been confirmed by the supreme court and the referee's findings thus became the law until they were set aside by the higher courts. In justice to Mr. Gallagher he asked that the report of the committee be amended.

What Precedent Might Lead to.

County Attorney John W. Eckert said he had not interviewed the district attorney's office in regard to the facts in the Sylvester case but he supposed that the matter had not been brought before the grand jury unless there had been some ground for suspicion. The water supply act was clear in its language in regard to these claims against the city of New York; which in turn held the contractors responsible. This might be a hardship to Mr. Gallagher, but the board should remember they were public officers entrusted with a duty to the people.

Referee Lyon had decided, said Mr. Eckert, that in some cases where no indictment was found, no expense had "necessarily incurred," but in his judgment if an appeal had been taken by the county that decision would have been reversed. If the defendant had been tried and found not guilty he would be as faultless before the law as any supervisor, but the expenses of his trial would have been "necessarily incurred." When witnesses were brought before the grand jury in the Sylvester case, there must have been some reason for doing so.

If this report of the committee were amended by the board, it would mean that in all future actions brought by the county, the board would be met by its action in amending the report and allowing a just claim to escape payment, which was a dangerous precedent to establish. The present claim had been investigated thoroughly by the committee. If the Sylvester claim was dismissed, dozens of future claims would be dismissed on the ground that the entire board should determine each claim and not delegate that work to a committee.

Mr. Rose in reply said he had no doubt that the district attorney had acted properly in this case as in other cases and made every effort to ascertain the guilty party but Sylvester had established a complete alibi at once, which was seldom done by defendants in criminal cases. The referee in the county's suit against the city had been a distinguished Einghamton attorney and inasmuch as his report had been confirmed by the supreme court, the law as determined by him was the law by which the board was governed, until some higher court reversed it. Mr. Gallagher appealed only on the merits of his claim. Until the matter was adjusted, the money due the contractors would be held up by the city of New York.

The Report Sent Back to Committee.

Supervisor Woolsey moved that the report be sent back to the committee, which Supervisor Kolts sought to amend by moving to strike from the committee report the recommendation in regard to collection of the $249.73 charges in the Sylvester case. Supervisor Kolts urged that some action be taken at the special session because it was unjust to the contractors to have their money tied up until the board met in annual session.

Supervisor Riftenbary said there was nothing for the board to do except to follow the advice of the county attorney, who was its legal adviser but he believed the matter could be straightened out if the report was referred back to the committee.

The motion to refer back the report to the committee was carried by a vote of 18 to 9, and on motion of Supervisor Schick the board took a recess while the committee retired and considered the matter.

Board Decides Gallagher Must Pay.

The committee later reported that it had heard a statement of facts of the Sylvester case from Assistant District Attorney Traver and had determined that the expense had been "necessarily incurred" and should be collected from the city or from the contractor or subcontractor by whom Sylvester had been employed.

Supervisor McElthone moved to adopt the report.

Supervisor Kolts moved that the amount of $249.73 incurred in the Sylvester case be deducted from the report and that the report otherwise be adopted.

The Kolts motion was lost by a vote of 17 to 7, those voting in its favor being Supervisors Cashin, Kolts, Gagliher, Rice, Schick, Wells and Wedemann.

The report was adopted by a vote of 18 to 6.

Supervisor Kolts asked whether there was any way in which Mr. Gallagher could give a bond to the

Mr. Rose said that by the action just taken by the board, Mr. Gallagher would have to pay the money to the county, and it would be paid promptly.

On motion of Supervisor Fratscher, the board adjourned.

EDDIE LEHTO.

SOUGHT FOR MURDER OF WEALTHY WIDOW.

New York, Sept. 21.—Police circulars have been sent broadcast for the three men wanted for the murder and robbery of Mrs. Elizabeth Grigs, Nichols, in her home in Seventy-ninth street near Fifth avenue, on September 8. A photograph was displayed of the man who has heretofore been known as "Eddie," but whose identification is now given as Eddie Lehto.

Lehto is described as about 20 years of age, five feet 6 or 7 inches tall, 140 pounds in weight, dark blond hair, blue eyes, light complexion, full round face, talks with Finnish accent, looks like a Swede, when last seen wore a blue serge suit, black cap and shoes.

He was named in the confession of Onnie Tals, footman of Mrs. Nichols, as a member of the gang, with which Tals plotted to rob the millionaire widow of her jewelry. Lehto at one time is supposed to have worked in the Nichols home.

MATTY'S BAD HABITS SIMPLY SCANDALOUS

Chris Mathewson, Dean of National League Pitchers, and Manager John McGraw.

In one of the recent magazines Ring W. Lardner, the baseball humorist, writes about Christy Mathewson, of the New York Giants, who has pitched and won more games of baseball than anyone else in the big leagues today. In the course of the article Mr. Lardner describes as follows Manager McGraw's troubles:

"It must be an awful strain on McGraw, handling this bird. Unless he keeps his eye right on him, he's liable to sneak up to his room some night and play a game of checkers. That ain't all, either. If McGraw is ast out to somebody's house or to go to the theater, he don't enjoy himself on account o' worryin'. How does he know that Matty ain't smokin' a cigar or jappin' up a dish of ice cream? Mac can't never leave the hotel without being scared that Matty'll buy a magazine and read it.

And I s'pose that once or twice a season he goes all to pieces and chews a stick o' gum.

"I don't know if the job of managing him is worse off the field or on. When he's out there in the box he seems to lose his head entirely. With the bases loaded they's always a chance that Matty'll make a guy pop out instead o' whiffin' him. Then, with a man on first base and nobody down and the batter sent up to bunt, he's liable to forget he's a pitcher and try to do a little fieldin'. You can't never tell. Maybe he'll run in and grab the bunt and force a man at second base, instead o' standin' still like a see-gar sign and hopin' somebody else'll do somethin'. Yes, sir, I bet McGraw don't sleep a wink on the road, or to home neither, from frettin' over this guy and wonderin' how he can learn him somethin'."

COST OF BASEBALL IS HIGH ST. LOUIS HAS FENCE BUSTER

Owner of Brooklyn Team Compares Traveling Expenses of Present Time With Former Years.

Charles H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn National league baseball team, comparing traveling expenses of former years with those now in effect, says: "In the old days (20 or 30 years ago) I could take my club on a visit to the four cities comprising the National league and get them home again at an outlay of $1,500 in traveling and hotel bills. (This, of course, does not include salaries). We carried 18 in a party, traveled at a special rate of one and one-half cents per mile, over the 2,000 miles and usually got three deadhead tickets out of 18. The party would consist of six pitchers, two catchers, five infielders, three outfielders, the manager and one extra man. Our carfare amounted to approximately $500, and $200 additional for sleepers and about $700 for hotel bills for a 10-day trip. The limit in the old days was $250 per day in hotels.

"Now take the conditions today. Our team carries nine pitchers, three catchers, five infielders, six outfielders, a manager and assistant manager, two trainers and two extra men. This figures 29. We pay two cents a mile for every mile we cover and get no more deadhead tickets. This brings the travel bill alone up to $1,500, the amount of the entire bill in the old days. Sleeper accommodations add $300 to the expense, and hotel bills at $4 a day instead of $2.50 add $1,920 more. All told the item of travel and meals totals $3,750 for a single western trip at the present time."

What's Wrong With Baseball? "Is baseball losing its grip?" is a question which is being asked often nowadays. No, is the answer. The national pastime is more popular than ever, is being followed each year by an ever-increasing number of fans, and slowly, but surely, is being taken up by lovers of things athletic in almost every civilized country. But there is no denying the fact that during the present season the patronage at the major league ball parks fell below expectations, and there also is no doubt that this was in consequence of the Titanic struggle in Europe, which, with its attendant slaughter of hundreds of thousands of human beings, spread a cloud of sorrow over the entire world.

DR. SWINBURNE OF ALBANY,
Makes Wonderful Cures Without Surgery.

The Doctor Says:

The craze for cutting is still growing. A great many doctors advise operations which are entirely unnecessary. Not that it is always done to make more money from the case, but because many physicians have not given sufficient time to study and research to enable them to make correct diagnosis of obscure diseases, or to understand how to treat such cases successfully with improved medical methods. Too many doctors merely accept the ideas and follow the practice of other physicians and advise operations because it is a popular medical crank. Some doctors will even perform operations, when they know that other treatment would produce a cure. Surgery may be necessary in some cases, but many serious cases, where physicians had declared an operation was the only means which would offer a hope of saving life, the use of the proper treatment did produce a cure, and the patient restored to health, without the danger of an operation. A recent case will prove of interest. A young lady, supposed to be suffering from appendicitis. Four doctors, two of whom were prominent surgeons, had advised this patient that an operation was absolutely necessary. A thorough examination found it was not a case of appendicitis at all, but one of obstruction of the bile ducts and impaction of the gall bladder. Treatment was given immediately which would remove the obstruction and reduce the inflammation. This was done and in a few days the patient was entirely relieved of all suffering, and has since made a complete recovery. There are many similar cases where operations were performed and the results often times proved fatal, where a correct diagnosis and the proper treatment would have saved human life and suffering. Cases of gall stones can often be cured without operation, as well as many other troubles, including special diseases of women. If patients are advised to submit to the dangers of surgery, they should not consent until they obtain the opinion of a specialist who believes more in the efficacy of improved treatment rather than the wild craze for operations.

Diseases being successfully treated include Catarrhal Troubles, Stomach or Intestinal Disorders, Gall Stones, Liver or Kidney Diseases, Dropsy or Heart Affections, Shortness of Breath or Asthma, Chronic Coughs or Lung Diseases, Rheumatism or Neuritis, Paralytic Fits, Nephritis or other Nerve Troubles, Ezema and blood diseases, Special Weakness, Debility, Malnutrition and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

"Drop" Defined.

In the British pharmacopoeia a "drop" is defined as coming from a tube of which the external diameter is exactly three millimeters. It is such drops of water at 75 degrees Fahrenheit being equivalent to one milliliter or cubic centimeter.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARABIAN MISSION

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Arabian Mission of the Reformed Church was celebrated at the First Dutch Church in this city Monday night by a missionary mass meeting, which was largely attended.

The Arabian Mission was organized by the Rev. Dr. James Cantine, a native of Stone Ridge, and the Rev. Dr. Zwemer, both of whom were present at Monday night's meeting and delivered addresses. An address also was delivered by Dr. Paul E. Harrison, who for several years has been a medical missionary in Arabia.

The history of the Arabian Mission since its organization in Kingston a quarter of a century ago was told in a most interesting way by the Rev. Dr. Cole and the Rev. Dr. Zwemer, and Dr. Harrison gave a minute description of conditions there at the present time and the effect which the present European war will have on the opening and development of Arabia.

Whichever side won, he predicted, Arabia would be opened after the conclusion of the present war to Christian influences and missionary effort. England and her allies, in the event of their success, will permit freedom of missionary effort, to which policy they have been committed for many years. In the event of German success a protective would be established which would eliminate the Turks from control and permit of missionary work being carried on there. The end of the war, be it war or peace, would result necessarily in eliminating the Turk from control of Arabia and in driving Mohammedanism from the country. With Mohammedism no longer practicing its barbarian customs, the people of Arabia, who in the main have been most receptive to civilizing missionary influences, would find that their efforts to aid the missionary work would no longer be balked by the Turk.

He Gave Up $10,000 Pastorate

Our Turner, producer of "Damon and Pythias" and "The Black Box" serial, has finished another all-reel masterpiece, "The Scarlet Sin," which comes to the Star theater on Wednesday, September 22. Hobart Bosworth collaborated with Mr. Turner in the production of the play and the result of the combination of forces is a tremendously powerful photodrama. A minister goes up a $10,000-a-year pastorate on Fifth avenue to convert a town of bestial sinners. While he is engaged in a mortal combat with a minor known as "The Brute" he is lured by the approach that his wife is an unfaithful woman. At the same time a mine horror occurs and the minister meets all three situations in a dramatic manner. Advertisement.

WILD PITCHING FEATS

Reulbach of Newark Feds Is Tie for the Record.

Freak Game Between Cardinals and Cubs Recalled by Athletic Recruit Who Issued Sixteen Passes to New York Yankees.

Bruce Haas, the former Worcester academy pitcher who signed with the Athletics, has set a new American league record for issuing bases on balls.

He passed 16 New York Yankees in one game.

The previous record of the American league was held by Carroll Brown and Eddie Plank, each of whom issued 14 passes in a game.

It is believed Billy George, once a Giant, and Ed Reulbach are tied for the major league record. Each gave 17 bases in one game. Reulbach won his game. He held the opposing team, Boston, to three hits. George lost his to Anson's Colts. That was in 1897.

Davidson, then of Newark, is believed the wildest man, as he gave Buffalo 20 bases on balls in one game.

The wildest game recorded was that pitched by Cy Seymour and Eddie Doehny against Chicago at the Polo grounds in 1898—or perhaps it was 1895. Seymour gave 14 bases and hit two men. Doehny, finisher up, gave nine passes and hit three up.

Another freak of pitching was the first inning of a game between Chicago and St. Louis in 1909. Chicago drew four passes and made five runs in the first inning. In the last half of that inning Cole, Bieba and Reulbach gave eight passes and hit a man.

St. Louis made five runs before hitting the ball at all and got eight in the inning. Then the game settled down and was hard fought to the finish.

CRANDALL USES SNAKE BALL

Twirler for St. Louis Feds Given Credit for Invention of New Delivery—Staggers Batters.

Otis Crandall, formerly of the New York Nationals, and now pitching for the St. Louis Federals, is credited with the invention of a new delivery, which has been named the "snake ball."

While the ball does not bite the batter it is said to be almost as fearful some. According to the reports of opposing batsmen, the sphere floats up to the plate in a series of eccentric circles that are utterly swifter than the staggers trying to follow its course.

Back to Search Kindergartens.

Not that the school has reopened, because Mack will be able to start his annual tour of the kindergarten in search of material, which recalls that when Study Melanis reported for duty, Ceasle thought he was a new bat boy.

Milk for Choice Lace.

It is well when washing a piece of choice yellowed lace to dip it in milk before ironing. Always place a piece of tissue paper directly over the lace so the warm iron will not touch the fabric.

DRAWING THE ROADS.

A Certain Amount of Highway Work Should Be Done by Every Farmer.

The working out of the road tax is a thing of the past in most states. It became a joke, writes W. J. Harsh in the Country Gentleman. Men appeared with all sorts of implements and did every sort of work except good work. It is no more. Still, as a matter of public policy and private profit, a certain amount of road building should be undertaken by every farmer. We have found, in our country, that if the farmer jumps in for a few days' work at the opportune moment they save taxes and repairs.

Of course we use the split log drag. This is simple, efficient and cheap. We take care to make the drag so light that one man can lift it, yet heavy enough to do the business.

Dry cedar logs are best for the purpose, though other woods—elm, walnut, box elder or soft maple—are recommended. Oak, hickory and ash are too heavy. We take logs from seven to ten feet long and from eight to ten inches in diameter at the butt end. White spruce does very well if cedars are scarce. Red spruce is too heavy. Dry aspens are too light.

We split the logs as near the center as possible. We use the heavier slab in front and slice it with a strip of iron along the lower face. We run the drag at an angle of about forty-five degrees.

We aim to drag the main portions of our roads soon after each heavy rain. With us this comes during our busy season, since our heaviest rains occur in haying and harvest time.

But we try to jump to the work, since neglect will make double work later on. We have our sluggards, but public sentiment is so strong that the majority of our farmers come to time.

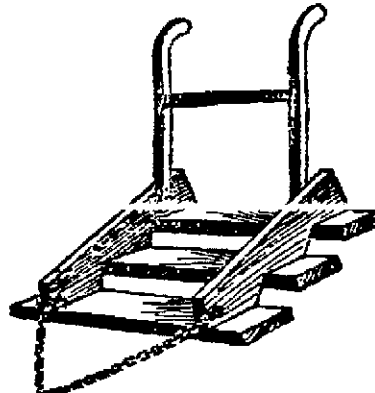

A hundred days' work, distributed through the year, will keep a road in better shape than a hundred days of continuous labor.

When the soil is moist and not too sticky the drag does its best work. Plowed wet, the soil of a road will pack just as the soil of a field will. If, however, the roadway is full of ruts and holes it is often best to run the drag when the soil is slushy, taking risk of baked and uneven stretches. During our January thaw we sometimes drag over our roads. The subsequent freezing gives them a comparatively smooth surface.

"A farmer is correctly judged by his fences," is an old saying. The new public spirit demands an addition to this. A farmer is quite as accurately judged by the roads in front of and within his bordering fences.

Homemade Drag Good For Roads.

This drag is designed for fining and packing soil for the better preservation of moisture. It is three and one-half feet wide, made of 2 by 8 inch lumber and put together with four inch spikes. The handles, which may be taken from a castaway implement, are two and one-half feet long. The chains are attached through auger holes. In making the notched cuts to give the required pitch for the drag boards take out three inches. The boards are two and one-half feet long—Southern, Agriculturalist.

Bonding Highways.

The voters of Kings county, Cal., have voted in favor of the project to issue bonds to the amount of $672,500 for the construction of 108 miles of permanent highways connecting all cities and community centers with the county seat and joining the Hanford-Visalia lateral of the state highway at several points.

His Investment.

The man with the hoe had just finished planting his sweet peas. "There," said he, straightening up. "I've spoiled a $5 pair of shoes and ruined a $4 pair of trousers, but if we have good luck we'll get a bouquet for which the florist would have charged about 50 cents."—Stray Stories

MISS FRANCES THORNTON IN HER RACING CAR.

SPEED MANIA LEADS HER TO ENTER PROFESSIONAL RACING.

New York, Sept. 21.—Miss Frances Thornton, in her racing car. With a love of adventure and speed in her soul, and enough money in her pocket to gratify her whims, Miss Frances Thornton, a pretty Brooklyn girl, has made all preparations to enter the auto racing game. She has purchased a car of high power and has made several practice runs at the new Sheepshead Bay Motor speedway on October 2. Miss Thornton has been known as a daring and speedy driver for some time, but it was not known that she intended entering the game as a professional until her recent announcement. She is twenty-two years of age, pretty and quite athletic. In addition to driving her car, she is an expert horsewoman and a noted swimmer.

BRITISH DEFICIT

$6,590,000,000

By End of Year Government Debt Will be $11,000,000,000—Budget Beats All Records but Chancellor Says It Will Not Cripple Resources.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Sept. 21.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Reginald McKenna introduced in the house of commons today the greatest budget in the history of England.

In introducing the budget, Mr. McKenna declared that the British government is face to face with a deficit of $6,590,000,000.

"I must ask the house to assent to a great and unprecedented budget," said the chancellor, opening his speech.

"On the existing basis of taxation the revenue for the current year is put at $1,360,000,000, while the expenditures are estimated at $7,950,000,000.

"I am sure the country is prepared to face the budget with confidence. To enable the nation to deal with the colossal task in front of us every section must be called upon to contribute and make sacrifices.

"It is estimated that at the end of this year the dead weight of debt upon the government will be $11,000,000,000.

"We had to consider our navy, costing $950,000,000, our army, costing $3,750,000,000 and external advances by the treasury amounting to $2,115,000,000.

Chancellor McKenna estimated that the daily rate of expenditures on all services from now until the end of the fiscal year will be upward of $22,500,000.

Later the chancellor said the daily cost of carrying on the war may rise to more than $25,000,000 a day, a estimate slightly in excess of that recently made in parliament by Premier Asquith.

The budget proposes to add 40 per centum to the revenue from the present income tax by levying a government tax upon all incomes above $500. The lowest annual income tax under the old law was $900.

A fifty per cent tax on the surplus profits of all manufactures is also proposed.

Under certain conditions, however, incomes as low as $600 will be taxed. The new income taxes to the government must be paid quarterly in the future.

Mr. McKenna estimated that the realization from the additional 40 per cent on the income taxation will net the government $187,000,000.

The budget also proposes a new super-tax of two shillings and ten pence on incomes of from $40,000 to $45,000, and three shillings two pence on incomes of from $45,000 to $50,000. Incomes above $50,000 are to be taxed three shillings six pence.

Duty on sugar is to be increased from one shilling ten pence to 9 shillings 4 pence on the hundredweight, and it is estimated that the increased revenue from this source alone will be $26,800,000 during the balance of the present fiscal year. The increase for a whole fiscal year on sugar is figured at $58,500,000.

The tax on beer and spirits is not touched, remaining at the old figure.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Sept. 21.—Price movements were comparatively narrow in the first fifteen minutes, there being an absence of the violent fluctuations in the war order stocks and some of those issues reflected a marked falling off in speculative interests. Willis-Overland, however, continued its upward movement rising four points to 214. Moderate gains were made in industrial alcohol, American Air and Foundry and New York Air Brake. Colorado Fuel was in free supply yielding 1 1/2 to 53. Great Northern Ore made a gain of 3/4 to 45 1/2, followed by a reaction to 45. General Motors rose 1/2 to 70 1/2, from which it yielded to 69 1/2 on the next few sales. American Smelting continued in good demand, rising 1/2 to 84 1/2, later losing the gain on moderate sales. Steel Common receded 3/4 to 75 1/2, but rallied to 76 1/2. Studebaker sold up to 144 1/2.

Price movements were mixed during the late forenoon and an irregular tone prevailed. Some stocks made substantial gains, but these gains were not maintained. The railway issues, however, were active, Union Pacific advancing 1/2 to 130 1/2, and Reading selling at 151. Erie Common sold at 31 1/2 and the first preferred advanced an eighth to 51. American Smelting continued in good demand, rising a point to 85. Steel declined 1/2 to 73 1/2. California Petroleum declined 1/2 to 20 1/2 and reactions were noted in Mexican Petroleum, Anaconda, Baldwin Locomotive, Westinghouse and Studebaker. Maxwell Motor sold at 54, against 50 at the close yesterday. Rumely declined a point to 4 1/2 and the preferred 1 1/2 to 7 1/2. Money loaning at 1 1/2 per cent.

The violent advance in General Motors to 350 was followed by a drop of thirty points to 320 in the late afternoon. Bethlehem Steel rose to 357, a new high record, and Crucible Steel gained four points to 97 1/2. There was also a vigorous advance in General Electric, which sold up to 17 1/2, and Maxwell Motors, which sold up to 5 1/2. Price movements in other stocks were mixed, a number making moderate gains while others were freely supplied at concessions.

The market closed unsettled. Governments unchanged; other bonds steady.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Mrs. Delbert Warren died at Milton Sunday noon, aged thirty-eight years, leaving besides her husband, three children, from ten to fourteen years of age, besides an aged father and mother and a number of brothers and sisters. Funeral services at the Milton Episcopal Church, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Joseph Moser, Sr., died this morning at his home, No. 444 Washington avenue, aged 80 years. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Thursday morning at 8:45 o'clock and from St. Peter's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a high mass of requiem will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery.

Dr. Andrew Jova, a well known Newburgh physician, died on Monday after a long illness. He was a native of Cuba but was exiled from that country during a rebellion in 1870. Coming to this country he studied medicine at the College of Physicians and Surgeons and returned to Cuba. Later he went to Newburgh, where he practiced medicine for some years. He married Miss Ethel Odell, who with one child, survives him. He was a cousin of the Jovas of Roseton.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

Fire Near Highland.

Children playing with matches set fire to the tenant house of Philip Wilkison on the Milton road near Highland on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, who occupy the house, were away at the time. The children were locked in the house. Evidently they procured matches and started the fire. A passing automobile saw smoke and notified Mr. Thatcher, a neighbor. He broke in and with the assistance of others extinguished the blaze. No serious damage was done.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Sept. 21.—Carve a niche in the Hall of Fame for T. Egan ("Rebel") Oakes, the greatest playing manager in the game today—the man who put Pittsburgh back on the baseball map, and by his brilliant leadership of a one-time "joke" ball club probably will bring to the Smoky City the 1915 championship of the Federal League.

Placed in charge of the Rebels in June, 1914, more as an experiment than anything else, Oakes has made good in a way that is startling, and although he has been forced to operate out of the camp with a makeshift pitching staff, he kept his men in the front all the way, and now looks a sure winner.

His said that a player, who tries to manage a ball club handicaps himself one way or the other, either by playing deteriorates or he flounders as a manager. But Oakes stands out today as one of the striking exceptions.

Oakes ranked as one of the best outfielders in the National League when he hurled the St. Louis Cardinals in the spring of 1914 and took unto himself a job as center fielder for the Pittsburgh Rebels. Despite the managerial cares that have been thrust upon him, he stands out today as one of the most valuable ball players in any league.

Oakes a Wonderful Player. He leads his own club—and the entire league—in timely hitting. He has driven in more runs than any other clubber in the Gilmore circuit. He is near the top in base stealing, covers miles of territory in the outfield, and has a wonderful whip.

Back in June of 1914 the Rebels were so well embedded in last place in the Fed race that it seemed that nothing but a ton of dynamite could extricate them. Harry Gessler, who had been handling the team up to that time, was released and then the club owners looked around for another manager.

"Give Rebel Oakes the job," someone suggested.

"Oakes," Why he never handled a ball club," was the reply.

"That's true—but give him a chance," retorted the other. "He's a born leader of men, he knows baseball from beginning to end, he's one of the brainiest men in the game—and he'll make good."

Well, Oakes got the job, taking charge of that Pittsburgh club when it was in last place, 15 or 20 games behind the seventh place team. It was a long, hard pull during 1914, with a bunch of players who lacked real class, yet Oakes got them to playing baseball, closed that awful gap, climbed into seventh place and nosed up close to sixth place before the 1914 season ended.

Oakes's great work won him the regular job as manager for 1915 and he was given a free hand in the making of the 1915 team.

Oakes Rebuilt Rebel Machine. Oakes made some sweeping changes in the Rebels' lineup before the 1915 season opened. He let out players who seemed to be an asset to the club and hired new ones that were more to his liking. He criticized his action, but the Oakes judgment has triumphed. His team today is one of the smoothest working machines in baseball. Its fielding is superior to that of any club in the American, National or Federal League and despite the fact that his star pitchers were out part of the time during the season, he has kept his club in and around first place since mid-season.

Oakes, at the outset of his managerial career, insisted upon harmony—and harmony prevails in the Rebel ranks. Oakes never asks a man to do more than he will do himself, and because he has set a terrific pace, his men have followed him to the leadership of the Federal League.

Quiet, unassuming and extremely modest off the ball field, Oakes is a type entirely different in his uniform. He is all fire and all fight. He battles every inch of the way—but he never becomes rowdyish. He is one of those few managers who can argue with an umpire and still conduct himself as a gentleman—a rare and wonderful accomplishment in these days.

Lights Save Lives.

That fully 25 per cent of the accidents to workmen are caused by insufficient lighting for men working at night, is the opinion of experts who have made a study of the subject. It is estimated that $250,000,000 is the average cost of injuries to workmen in the United States alone, and that more than 50 per cent of these accidents are preventable.—Popular Mechanics.

Would Never Do.

"Why do you censor the vaudeville bill every Monday morning before the show starts for the week?" "Have to do it. Some of these unscrupulous performers occasionally try to ring in some new jokes."

Excuse for Comic Songs.

Ascenolaphus is reported to have written comic songs to promote digestion in his patients.

To Cure Hiccoughs.

To cure hiccoughs, fill a glass with water, draw a deep breath through the mouth, take a mouthful of water, hold the glass before you above your head, raise your eyes so that they can see the bottom of the glass without throwing your head back, swallow the water, then breathe out slowly through the mouth.

MAYOR ANGELA CANFIELD.

WOMAN MAYOR INSISTS ON PRAYER AT COUNCIL MEETINGS. PUTTING IN REFORMS IN ILLINOIS TOWNS.

Mayor Angela Canfield, of Warren, Ill.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The Hon. Angela Canfield, 74 years of age, a grandmother and leading milliner of the little town of Warren, Ill., came up to Chicago the other day to lay in her tall stock of hats and relieve herself of a few remarks aimed at her in general and guiding the destinies of Warren in particular.

"Grandma" Canfield is having a bit of trouble down in Warren, since her election last April. First, the councilmen object to prayer at their meetings, but the little five foot two Mayor has been obdurate. No prayer, no council meeting, that's all. Besides, she is going to insist on the prayer for William Smith, a member of the council does not go to the Methodist Church regularly, and she thinks William should bear a little bit about God, somewhere, so she injects it into the council meeting.

She has already accomplished much. She has secured the passage of a speed law, a law making a man liable to arrest and fine for beating his wife, pure food laws and a host of others. Among her contemplated reforms are: building a social center, introduction of dress reforms for girls and street paving for Warren.

26 BROADWAY, RONDOUT

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF New York by the Grace of God, Free and Independent.—To Irma Osborn Padley, of Madison County, New York, State of Michigan, to the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore, Maryland, and to all other persons interested in the estate of Irma Osborn Padley, an infant, as creditors, next of kin or otherwise, SEND GREETING:

YOU AND EACH OF YOU are hereby cited to show cause to our Surrogate of the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's Court in the County of Ulster, held at the Surrogate's office in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, on the 29th day of September, 1915, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the account of Roy E. Ashley, as ancillary guardian of the estate of Irma Osborn Padley, an infant, should not be judicially settled and allowed, and why an order authorizing and directing the transfer of the securities and other property now under the jurisdiction of this Court in the State of New York, to said Roy E. Ashley, as general guardian of said Irma Osborn Padley in the State of Michigan, should not be granted, and also why the anxiety of Marian C. Padley, as general guardian of said Irma Osborn Padley, in said State of Michigan, should not be discharged from further liability and the securities in possession of said Roy E. Ashley, as ancillary guardian should not be transferred to him as general guardian of the person and estate of Irma Osborn Padley, by person of his appointment by the Probate Court of Madison County, in the State of Michigan.

In Witness Whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of Ulster to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Honorable Walter N. Gill, Surrogate of our said County, at the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, the thirteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

WALTER N. GILL, Surrogate.

CHARLES W. WALTON, Attorney for Petitioner, 260 Wall Street, Kingston, N. Y.

October Brides

What will the bride say of your gift? Will she look at it and say languidly, "That is very pretty" or will she hug it to her breast and say, "Oh! I just love this!"

That is exactly the difference between buying the "ordinary" gifts and the exquisite things one finds here at no greater cost.
